

Software Licence Agreement

Introduction

This agreement is between Open Up Music (the Licensor) and the purchasing organisation (the Licensee) for the use of the music-making software, Clarion.

Licence grant

Open Up Music grants the Licensee a non-exclusive, non-transferable, limited licence to use the Clarion. The software can be used for the Licensee's specified purposes and can be distributed to others by the Licensee.

Restrictions

The Licensee cannot copy, change, or share the software unless permitted by this agreement. The Licensee cannot reverse engineer or disassemble the software. The Licensee can lend or give the software to others. The Licensee cannot transfer their rights or duties under this agreement without permission from Open Up Music.

Ownership

Clarion is owned by Open Up Music. The Licensee does not own the software.

Duration and ending

This agreement starts when the software is purchased. Open Up Music can terminate the agreement if the Licensee breaches any terms. The Licensee must then stop using and delete all copies of the software.

Warranty and disclaimer

Open Up Music guarantees that the software will work as described and provides a 12-month guarantee on the software. Beyond this, the software is provided "as-is" without additional guarantees or warranties, whether expressed or implied, including any implied warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose. Licence keys are guaranteed to be valid and functional. Support is provided to resolve any issues promptly.

Limitation of liability

Open Up Music is not responsible for any indirect or special damages related to the software. Open Up Music's total liability is limited to the amount paid by the Licensee for the software.

Confidentiality

The Licensee must keep any proprietary information from Open Up Music confidential and not share it without permission.

General terms

This agreement is governed by the laws of the UK. This agreement replaces any previous agreements between the parties. Any changes to this agreement must be in writing and signed by both parties. If any part of this agreement is unenforceable, the rest remains effective.

Support and maintenance

If customers face issues with downloading, accessing, or signing in, they can contact Open Up Music customer support via email to help@theclarion.uk.

Data Privacy and security

The Licensee's data will be handled, stored, and protected according to Open Up Music's Privacy policy. Customer data is protected according to Open Up Music's privacy policy and the privacy policies of the respective stores.

Updates and upgrades

The Licensee is entitled to standard updates of this version of the Clarion. This does not cover major upgrades, such as when the software undergoes a significant overhaul. Updates will be delivered through the respective software stores (such as the App Store or Windows Store). Customers will receive notifications for available updates, provided that notifications are enabled in the settings of the corresponding store.

Dispute resolution

If there is a dispute, it will be resolved through mediation or arbitration. This means an independent person will help solve the problem instead of going to court.

Indemnification

The Licensee agrees to protect Open Up Music from any legal claims resulting from the Licensee's use of the software.

Compliance with laws

The Licensee must comply with all applicable laws and regulations in their use of the software.